CONFESSES RAPE OF DESIGNER IN NEW YORK HOTEL

Victim Fails To Identify Man, 39, As Her Assailant

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Assistant State's Attorney John Boyle said today that Thomas McCall, 39, a partner in a loop engraving company, confessed he raped and assaulted Miss Virginia Austin, 24, a New York doll designer, in her hotel room last Aug. 15.

Boyle said McCall would be held on an open charge until "every angle of his story is checked."

Miss Austin viewed McCall last night, but failed to identify him as her assailant. She claimed she never saw the face of the man who attacked her, and would only be able to identify him by his voice.

Boyle said McCall repeated his story of the assault in the presence of Miss Austin, who was beaten on the head with a brick by an intruder who stepped to the window of her room from the roof of an adjoining building, which was reached by two fire escapes.

Told His Story

"I saw her in the lobby of the hotel where we both lived," Boyle quoted McCall as saying, "and as she rode up the elevator I noticed her room key—No. 414. About dawn the next morning I got up and went for a walk, found the brick and decided to go up to her room."

Boyle said McCall told him he struck her as she slept, and kept his hand over her face when she recovered consciousness.

McCall was seized by three detectives after Miss Natalie Ottuso, 17, a dancer at a loop theater, reported seeing a prowler on the fire escape outside her window at the hotel. From her description McCall was taken into custody. In his room, police said, were found three pass keys to other rooms in the hotel.

Miss Austin, an employee of a new York toy manufacturing concern was one of 11 women assaulted in Chicago hotels and hospitals in less than two years. Four of them were slain.

Files $50,000 Suit For Losing His Eye

Cates charged that when the officers raided an alleged gambling establishment the night of Sept. 7, they shot him with tear gas and one of them struck him in the eye with a club. The said the sight of his eye was gone permanently.

Six men were arrested in the raid, in which police said they confiscated money, cards and chips.

BARRIAGE GIVES SCHEDULES FOR BOOSTER TRIP

Caravans To Drive Around Vicinity For Festival

Chairman Chester Barriage of the Fall Festival committee today outlined a complete schedule for the trip to start Thursday morning at 8 o'clock from the Barriage service station on First street and Ottawa avenue. An effort is being made to make this the largest booster parade which has left Dixon to advertise an event of the importance of the 1937 annual Fall Festival and corn show. Three sound trucks will accompany the group of motorists and more than 35 cars have been promised. All cars are expected to be ready at the starting point at 7:30.

The schedule provides for the starting time at 8 o'clock and at Compton the caravan will split into two sections. Both will meet in Sterling at the noon hour and it is expected that all will return to Dixon at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Chairman Barriage stated today that anyone wishing to accompany the caravan would be welcome and there is plenty of room for those without cars who wish to make the trip. The schedule as arranged provides for the caravan leaving Dixon promptly at 8 o'clock and proceeding eastward with stops at Franklin Grove at 8:15, Ashton at 8:30, Rochelle at 8:55 and Compton at 9:35.

At Compton, the caravan will be divided, one section proceeding south to Mendota, where they are scheduled to arrive at 10 o'clock being in LaMoille at 10:30, Ohio at 11:05, Walnut at 11:20 and arriving in Sterling at the noon hour.

The second section will leave Compton at 9:40, arriving in West Brooklyn at 9:55, Lee Center at 10:25, Amboy at 10:45, Walton at 11:10, Harmon at 11:25, Nelson at 11:45 and joining the first section at Sterling for dinner at noon. Both sections will again converge and in the afternoon, leaving Sterling at 1 o'clock will visit Milledgeville at 1:30, Polo at 2:20, Mt. Morris at 2:50, Oregon at 3:05 and return to Dixon at 4 o'clock.

Man Arrested In Oregon, Fugitive

Oregon, Ill., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Sheriff Delos Blanchard of Ogle county said today Robert Carnross, 29, arrested yesterday after an automobile accident, admitted he was an ex-convict and escaped recently from jail at Portage, Wis., where he was awaiting trial on a forgery charge.

Blanchard said the prisoner told him he forged a check to buy an auto at Kingman, Ariz., and had served two years at Waupun, Wis., penitentiary, upon conviction of robbery at Green Bay. The sheriff said Carnross indicated he would fight extradition.

JAPANESE RAIN DEATH ON CHINA CAPITAL, 200 DIE

Hour And A Half Raid Devastated Residential Section

Nanking, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Less than 48 hours after British and American protests to the Japanese government against unrestricted bombardment of this capital, more than 50 Japanese airplanes twice rained death and destruction from the skies today, killing, wounding or burning to death more than 200 non-combatant Chinese.

Those killed or injured were those who had been too feeble or helpless to join the exodus into the safety of the surrounding countryside.

Dozens of incendiary bombs and high explosives fell into their wretched straw huts in the Hsiak-wan slum district, between the Yangtze river, the huts burned like match boxes.

Already accustomed to the horrifying results of 12 previous air raids here, this correspondent, who has reported a dozen civil wars, famine and plagues in China, nevertheless was sickened at the sight of women, children and aid men, already burned to death or beyond aid.

Horrible Sights Viewed

In many places heaps of dismembered legs, arms and heads were seen.

The odor of burning bodies sickened the stomach and appalled the senses.

The lives of 20 Americans, including seven women, were endangered by the bombardments and the screen of fire raised by Chinese anti-aircraft batteries against the raiders.

Despite the American and British protests against bombardment of civilian populations and private property, the most densely populated section of the city was attacked, including the new residential district where the American, Italian, German and Netherlands embassies or legations are situated and also the homes of virtually all American and foreign residents.

Thirty sections of the capital were bombed, with an average of three bombs for each spot. The stations of two of China's most important railways, the Shanghai-Nanking and Tientsin-Pukow lines, were bombed. These stations are near where American, British, French, and Italian warships are anchored in the Yangtze.

Many additional civilian casualties resulted in this area. If the Japanese aviators were directing their attack principally against government buildings and military barracks, they failed. Not one of these points was seriously damaged.

Four Jap Planes Downed

Chinese claimed to have brought down four of the Japanese raiders. Despite the air raids, United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson and his staff returned tonight to the embassy from the American patrol boat Luzon, aboard which they had taken refuge since Tuesday.

Johnson indicated he is ready to remain at the capital, notwithstanding today's air raids. Chinese officials expressed extreme gratification, and Americans here assumed the ambassador had received instructions to return from Washington.

The American embassy barely escaped damage today. One Chinese anti-aircraft shell just missed the embassy building and blasted a gaping hole nearby. Shell fragments splattered sickeningly against the gate house of the embassy compound.

Only Second Secretary J. Hall Paxton of the embassy staff remained in the city proper. Ambassador Nelson Johnson had evacuated the embassy to the gun boat Luzon in the Yangtze; the United States, while complying.

Highest Cattle Price In 18 Years Is Paid in Chicago Market Today

Scarcity of Grain Fed Steers Basis Of Advance

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The highest cattle price in 18 years—$19.50 per hundredweight—was paid in the Chicago livestock market today.

With one exception it was the highest steer price for September on record. It surpassed all previous peaks witnessed in the cattle trade since December, 1919, when $21.50 bought a load of choice steers.

Scarcity of grain fed steers in the face of a brisk demand was the basis of the advance.

September corn shot up 8 cents a bushel—within 1-8 of the limit for one session—in a wild scramble of "shorts" to buy corn.

The price soared to $1.12 1-2 per bushel just before the close.

Sensational Changes

Sensational gyrations took place even as the board of trade acted again to put a strong "brake" on market speculation by increasing margin requirements on September dealings from 8 to 12 cents per bushel. The margin usually is only 4 cents but it was doubled last week in an effort to halt the struggle between opposing speculative deadlocked in a fight for profits in operating in September corn.

Fearing the market would get out of hand, the clearing house placed a minimum margin on all lines of 250,000 bushels or less of 12 cents per bushel, with a further increase of 1-2 cents per bushel on each additional 250,000 bushels.

CORN IS SAFE

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—This year's large corn crop is safe from frost damage, the weather bureau reported today.

A corn belt survey showed the crop matured except in the eastern Ohio valley.

Recent fair and cool weather speeded fall harvesting although continued dry weather delayed fall plowing and seeding in the winter wheat belt, the bureau said.

Because of the hard, dry soil, the report said "the winter wheat outlook is highly unfavorable in all states north of Oklahoma and Arkansas, and westward to the Rockies."

Weather of the last week was said to have aided picking and ginning over most of the cotton belt.

Late garden crops and some potatoes were damaged by frost in North Dakota, Minnesota and Michigan.

Five Workmen Are Injured In Blast

Waynesburg, Pa., Sept. 22.—(AP)—An explosion in an air shaft two miles from the main workings of the Mather collieries mine at Mather seriously injured five workmen today.

One of the men, Demin Barrow, 38, of Ontario, Canada, superintendent of drilling, was in critical condition.

It was at the Mather mine that 195 miners were killed by a terrific explosion in 1928. Only 10 men were in the air-shaft today and five of them escaped injury.

Productive

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 22.—(AP)—John Downey, Northwestern University freshman, had a place on the city's work gangs today but not on the payroll.

Municipal Judge Harry Porter set him to chopping wood in the city ward for 29 days as a drastic penalty for two violations of the speed laws.

He will do the stretch at the rate of one hour a day after classes and a half a day on Fridays and Saturdays.

Downey, a student of automotive engineering, said the sentence has already proved productive of an idea—a steering wheel speedometer, that the driver can't avoid seeing.

Charles E. Wadsworth of Sterling, well known in this city and Sterling for the past twenty-three years, was found dead in his automobile parked on East Third street in Sterling about 10:30 P. M. Tuesday, death it is thought resulting from a heart attack.

Wadsworth was last seen about 9 A. M. Tuesday by Jack Corbett in front of the Sterling Home Improvement Co., where Wadsworth had parked his car. About 10:30 P. M. Edward Froeter, owner of the Sterling Home Improvement Co., and Joe Britt, a customer, were conversing in the offices when Wadsworth's name was mentioned. A remark was made that he Wadsworth car had been standing all day in front of the building and the pair upon investigating discovered Wadsworth dead in the machine.

Charles E. Wadsworth was born October 4, 1871, in Bloomington, the son of John and Josephine Wadsworth. BROTHERS SEEK FREEDOM FROM JAIL ON BOND

Another Bloody Episode of Denhardt Case Written

Shelbyville, Ky., Sept. 22.—(AP)—The three Garr brothers, who wrote another bloody chapter in the Denhardt-Taylor case—a story that began with romance and wound up with bullets—prepared today to seek freedom from jail on bond.

The trio—Jack, Roy and Dr. E. S. Garr—charged with slaying Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt, who, the commonwealth contended, killed the Garrs' sister, comely Verna Garr Taylor, will claim self-defense, it was indicated by their attorney J. Ballard Clark of Lexington.

The case was given another strange twist when Commonwealth's Attorney H. B. Kinsolving, Jr., who prosecuted Denhardt on the Taylor murder charge, disclosed he had suggested to County Attorney Coleman Wright that the Garrs be denied bond, at least until their arraignment, scheduled Friday.

Plan Funeral

Meanwhile, as the brothers remained silent in jail here in this bluegrass tobacco county seat, friends of Denhardt, former lieutenant governor and adjutant general of Kentucky, made plans for funeral services for the colorful soldier-politician tomorrow at Bowling Green.

Following private services at the home of the general's sister tomorrow morning, the body will lie in state at the National Guard armory—"Denhardt hall"—until mid-afternoon when military services will be conducted.

The self-defense plea was given impetus when Patrolman Jephtha Tracy, to whom the brothers surrendered after Denhardt was cut down by bullets on the Main street here Monday night, said he was told "that before any shots were fired they saw Denhardt reach for his pocket and they thought he was reaching for a gun."

When questioned about the self-defense report, Clark retorted: "Men don't kill each other for nothing."

BULLETIN

New York, Sept. 22.—The Pittsburgh Post Gazette and Frank Prince today denied Prince had any connection with the expose of Supreme Court Justice Black as a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

Washington—Few recent political incidents have been surrounded with more mystery than the expose of Justice Black's Ku Klux Klan affiliations.

There is, first of all, the mystery of how R. P. Day, the Klansman who supplied some of the affidavits exposing Black, should have fallen under a train just after the expose was published.

Second there is the mystery of who went to the trouble to dig up the details regarding Black.

The first mystery is being investigated by Alabama authorities. Whether Day died an accidental death or was pushed under the train may never be cleared up.

The second mystery seems to have been partially solved by administration sleuths, who say that a private detective bureau, operated by Frank Prince of Fifth Avenue, New York, took the initiative in investigating Black and turned the results over to The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Prince is a former Hearst newspaperman who has worked for various big corporations. Who paid him to expose Black is not known definitely. However, he has been employed recently by a steel company, and it may be that this corporation, one of the most anti-labor concerns in the country, was anxious to keep a pro-labor justice from taking the bench.

Prince is now engaged in another investigation which has all the earmarks of being paid for by the steel company. According to administration sleuths, he is digging into the private life of John L. Lewis, now has two detectives working in Indianapolis, former home of the CIO chief.

Note: Tall, handsome and a good mixer, Prince has done a number of important sleuthing jobs recently. He supplied the House investigating committee with most of its important disclosures of Nazi activities in this country.

Little Flower of New York
Sit down with a paper and pencil and try to spell the name "Fiorello H. La Guardia." Then you will realize how great a tribute it was to the mayor of New York City that 57,000 Democrats wrote in his name on the Democratic primary ballot. "He was listed only on the Republican ballot."

Furthermore, in New York state it is necessary to write the full name. The last name is not enough. The 57,000 Democrats spelled it 155 different ways, by actual count, but they wrote it in LaGuardia's first name means "Little Flower," and once the mayor, signing over life, said:

"Why did my parents have to call me, of all names, Fiorello? I figure it costs me 200,000 votes in every election."

Note: Even the Vice-President of the United States, Jack Garner, who has known Fiorello for some 10 years, still calls him "Fiorello."

War Signposts
Here are some significant signs indicating the way official minds are running on the Far East and the danger of war:

1. Roosevelt has just appointed as his naval aide Captain Walter B. Woodson, recently returned from the Asiatic fleet and up-to-date on latest developments there. Since Roosevelt sees more of his naval and military aides than previous Presidents, this is a most important assignment.

2. The President has just asked the war department for a secret and special survey of all landing fields in the United States, including those built with WPA and PWA funds.

3. Military intelligence officers have received instructions to talk to no one about developments in the Far East.

Note: The army is least involved of the armed services in the Far Eastern mess, also would be least involved in case the United States was dragged in.

What Wait?
Despite rumors to the contrary, the President and John L. Lewis did not discuss the appointment of Robert Watt, secretary of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor, as successor to former Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward McGrady. The subject was not mentioned at their recent conference.

Watt is a leading possibility for McGrady's job and feeling between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. over filling the place is tense. Both outfits want their man in the office.

Watt is an A. F. of L. man but not a national leader. Also he has the reputation of being a liberal, is critical of William Green and other

SIGNAL THE END OF MAJOR WORK ON ALTON DAM

Alton, Ill., Sept. 22—(AP)—Waters of the Mississippi bubbled up through the riverbed into a cofferdam which had protected work on the last section of the main dam and auxiliary lock of the government's $11,000,000 Alton navigation project.

When workmen shut down the pumps which had checked the river, whistles of boats and engines joined in signaling the virtual completion of the Alton dam, part of the $150,000,000 program for the canalization of the Mississippi from Minneapolis to the mouth of the Missouri river.

Removal of the sheep steel forming the cofferdam, electrification of the dam's machinery for raising and lowering the gates and various odds and ends of cleaning-up remain before the project finally is declared finished.

These tasks, however, are minor compared with the work already done since the project was begun in January of 1934. Some idea of the magnitude of the dam can be gained from the fact that more than 35,000 pounds of steel were used in its construction.

2,118 Feet Long

The dam, 2,118 feet long, including two 110-foot locks, is the largest ever built on piling. It rests on more than 32,000 steel and wooden piles, driven to bedrock, far below the river's bottom.

When the 100-ton gates are lowered next spring, the dam will form a pool extending 38.5 miles upstream, creating a 40,000-acre lake with a shore line of 175 miles. The locks, which will raise and lower boats as much as 25 feet, depending on the stage of the river, are the exact width of those in the Panama Canal.

The improvement, which required about 3,000,000 man-hours of work, will help provide a dependable 9-foot channel for steamboat and barge navigation. It is one of 26 dams being erected in connection with the river's canalization.

AN INEXPENSIVE SNOW FENCE SILO

Nearly every farmer can afford to own a temporary silo like the one shown here. Agricultural engineers have discovered that a practical, low-cost, portable silo can be built of snow fencing (or corn cribbing) and strong, wind and waterproof building paper of that paper has been treated to resist the fungus rot found in all outslage.

This type of silo has another advantage in that every farmer can build his own in a day's time. He can build it of such size that it will meet his needs for this year—whether he feeds four or four-hundred cattle. The silo pictured here holds fifty tons. It can be built for less than $10 and because the snow fencing can be used year after year, all that a farmer re-purchases is new paper at a cost of less than $10 per ton. This type of silo is of equal advantage to the farm owner or the renter. However, should the renter move, he can take his rolls of snow fencing along with him.

DIXON LEAGUE OF WOMEN PLANNING DILIGENT SEASON

League To Have First Meeting Saturday Afternoon

The Dixon League of Women Voters, an organization which has been largely responsible in recent years for many civic improvements here, will open its season's activities Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Walter T. Fisher of Winnetka will address the members and their friends at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Willard Thompson, 403 E. Fellows street.

Mrs. Fisher is a graduate of Radcliffe college and for nine years has directed her own nursery school. She is a member of the Cook County League board for the past three years and its chairman of a special park committee. She is now the active president of the Winnetka League of Women Voters and is a former president of the Winnetka Parent Teachers' association. Her topic for Saturday afternoon will be "The Secret of Success."

To Study Civic Needs
Mrs. H. A. White president of the local League, announced today that many civic problems will be the topic of the organization this season. Under the work of the economic welfare department a study will be made of the housing condition in Dixon with recommendations to the citizens. The education department will consider the interests of the Dixon public library with the aim to indicate the need for appropriations to afford new books, a children's room and general improvements. The department of government and its operation will study to improve the condition at Oakwood cemetery and an elimination of the smoke nuisance.

The care of children at the Dixon state hospital and cases of women and children criminal offenders will be the topic of study for the child welfare department.

The foreign relations committee will concentrate on the Far East situation. In January Mrs. Clifton Utley, wife of the noted Chicago authority on foreign affairs, will come to Dixon to discuss with the League the policy of the United States in the Far East. Mrs. Utley is state chairman of the League's committee on Foreign Relations.

During the three weeks following each general meeting the organization devotes itself to study groups which develop topics studied for each month.

"Supporting Members"
For the first time this year the League is receiving "supporting members"—those wishing to encourage the work of the organization without active membership.

On October 30 a Regional conference for delegates from the northern part of the state will convene in Dixon for the study of education and child welfare. An all day meeting is planned and will be held at the high school.

Mrs. White also announced today the members of the League's board:

Sixty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary Another Day For Dixon Pair Who Were "Just Sweet Sixteen" Tuesday

Sixty-five years is a long time for two people to live together but for Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Huyett, 721 South Galena avenue, love never grows cold.

The venerable couple observed quietly their wedding anniversary Tuesday and in the evening were pleasantly surprised by their eight children all of whom are married and live in the city or the immediate Dixon vicinity.

When this reporter appeared on the scene Mr. and Mrs. Huyett were working together, as they have the last sixty-five years, in their garden at the rear of the home.

"I told him not to tell anyone this was our sixty-fifth wedding anniversary," said Mrs. Huyett "because we didn't want as many people to flock in on us as came to the Fishers' anniversary."

"We didn't want anything in the Telegraph," added Mr. Huyett, "but now that you're here we might as well tell you anything you want to know."

Mr. Huyett did not shrink at the opportunity of taking the reporter all over his home upstairs and down and showed surprising agility for his eighty-seven years in negotiating the staircase. The original marriage certificate hung in a frame on the bedroom wall, and around the room were heirlooms and solid, old walnut furniture of one hundred years ago.

The reporter ventured to inquire the age of Mr. and Mrs. Huyett.

"Sweet Sixteen" "We're sweet sixteen!" was the prompt response. And well they might be, for their enthusiasm belies their advanced age, Mrs. Huyett is eighty-two.

Mr. and Mrs. Huyett were married in Wolmesdorf, Lebanon county, Pennsylvania in 1872. Mr. Huyett's home was in Lower Heidelberg, Berks county, and Mrs. Huyett, nee Emma C. Hain was a resident of Wernersville, Berks county.

They have eight children, five boys and three girls, fourteen grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren, all living. The children are all married and live in Dixon and vicinity. They are: John F. Huyett, Mrs. Harvey Herbst (Sarah Elizabeth), Charles F. Huyett, James Raymond Huyett, Harry Berden Huyett, Mrs. Roy Barron (Edna Cecil Huyett), Mrs. Otto Kreger, (Allie Blanche Huyett) and George Huyett.

Mr. and Mrs. Huyett enjoy life, and keep healthy by working in their garden. Mr. Huyett likes to play checkers.

Legion Auxiliary Conduct Rapped By Illinois Leader

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Pleading for American Legion auxiliary women to "set examples of a cleaner type of Americanism for the youth of the nation," Mrs. W. H. Morgan of Edwardsville, Ill., voiced mild complaint today of the conduct of the organization's members at their convention.

"If we are going to exalt the American Legion auxiliary in the eyes of the American people we have got to deserve it," Mrs. Morgan mother of one daughter, said at the outset of the auxiliary's meeting at the Astor hotel.

"I'm not so much criticizing as recommending," she said, "that the auxiliary women as mothers should set better examples than they have at this convention."

"If we, as a group, are to sponsor youth movements, we first must instill into our membership the principles of sober and dignified conduct. We at least should act as sober American women."

Mrs. Morgan was asked for specific criticism.

"I think I've said it all—sober and dignified," she said.

When Mrs. Morgan began speaking, just after the auxiliary's committee on junior activities had made its report, only a handful of members was present. When she sat down amid prolonged applause there was a large crowd in the ballroom.

Mrs. Morgan's husband is a civil engineer in Edwardsville. She has long been prominent in auxiliary affairs, has attended everyone of its 17 conventions, and has served as an officer in its ranks.

SEPT. PENSION CHECKS

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 22.—(AP)—O. R. Taylor, revenue clerk in the auditor's office, reported that the first September old age assistance checks were being mailed out today. The old age assistance division sent 6,000 September vouchers to the auditor yesterday, within two hours after the last August checks were mailed. Taylor said he expected assistance payments to be on a normal schedule by Nov. 1.

BIRTH CONTROL PROGRAM FRAMED FOR STATE P. T. A.

Advocates Praise It As Health, Economic Measure

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Establishment of a birth control information program to serve the 150,000 members of the Illinois congress of parent-teacher associations carried the approval today of the executive council.

The program was drafted by a special committee headed by Mrs. William F. Krahl, state chairman of humane education, and approval was voted by the council yesterday.

Mrs. Krahl said the program was designed as "a health and economic measure." She said she had not heard any protests but added "no doubt there will be some."

She said the congress would not distribute information on methods of birth control but would publish a list of 13 clinics, six in Chicago and seven downstate, where such information may be obtained. The list will be sent to any council or district meeting on request.

The program also called for publication in the P-T. A. bulletin of "carefully prepared and highly conservative articles on the value and advisability" promoting family health and material welfare through birth control. Mrs. Krahl said. She added speakers would be made available to address local P-T. A. groups on birth control.

Mrs. Krahl said the committee's report was formally accepted by Mrs. Arthur R. Williams, president of the congress, and that the program would be carried out at once.

"Birth control," said Mrs. Krahl, "is necessary as a health and economic measure, a social service to maintain security of the home and for prevention of the birth of physically and mentally unfit children."

"Two important decisions in the past year have taken birth control out of the field of controversy and made it recognized as a sound medical and social practice. A federal court has ruled that birth control literature can be sent through the mails. More recently the American Medical association has approved birth control and recommended teaching its technique in hospitals and medical schools."

She said the Illinois group is the first P-T. A. congress in the nation to adopt a birth control program.

FARM BILL HELD UP FOR USE AS CLUB

United States Senator Guy Gillette of Iowa, a democrat and a farmer, told the Iowa Farmers' union in convention that farm legislation was held up in the last congress in order that it might be used as a club to force support for the president's supreme court bill.

"I want to clear myself here of one charge," he said. "A good deal has been said as to why there was no farm bill passed at the last session. I want the world to know what happened."

He said members of congress introduced bills, including the farmers union bill, as measures to be considered and developed, but they were held up. The administration farm bill came to the committees late and was held in committee and redrafted.

"Meanwhile, they came to me—not the farm bureau people, but some other people—and they said:

"We're going into your state and tell them that they can't get a farm bill unless you get behind the court bill."

He said the threat was followed by petitions from his home state and even his home county, urging him to support the administration farm bill.

"They told me it was the best bill possible, but at that time there wasn't any such bill."

"That's why a farm bill wasn't passed. They were holding it up to put pressure on wild men like me. When they were holding up the farm bill, they came to me in my office and said that they were doing so to drive me from the position I felt to be right."

This is a period in which people who disagree with the administration are assailed by name calling and are searched for ulterior motives. Senator Guy Gillette is experienced in Washington, having been several terms in the house of representatives. He can't be assailed as a republican, because he is a democrat. He can't be assailed as one not sympathetic with farmers, because he is a farmer.

Guy Gillette simply stood up before the convention of the Farmers' union and told the truth about what happened to the administration farm bill. It was held back to be used as a club on members who wouldn't go for the court bill. So the farmers got no legislation.

If anything was due the farmers, they were sold out to the Make America Over boys.

Certainly this is a low point to which statesmanship has descended.

HAVE WE LEARNED ANYTHING?

Vital enough is the issue concerning the prospect of Hugo Black sitting as a member of the supreme court of the United States, but more vital is the question, Have we learned anything?

Have we learned that merely being elected to the United States senate does not have a purifying effect on all frailties of mankind?

Some traditions in church and state have their beginnings in human conduct and experience that make them sound. Perhaps some of the traditions that have bound the senate have had their beginnings in elements that make them sound. If there ever was anything sound in the notion that because a man has been elected to the United States senate, that body is barred from investigating his conduct before he is elevated to such a post as the supreme court of the United States, certainly it would be hard to substantiate it now.

Remember, in considering what has just happened, that when the president nominates for the supreme court a man who has been serving in the United States district court, a man who by the nature of his position has been appointed by some preceding president and confirmed by some preceding senate, the senate to which the name is sent will examine the records of his decisions minutely and may drag him before a committee to be placed on the senatorial pillory, which usually is cruel and unusual punishment. President Hoover sent to the senate the name of a judge with a normal record in the United States court, but the name was withdrawn because of decisions found objectionable to one class of persons. Charles E. Hughes had been elected governor of New York, had been appointed by one president and confirmed by one senate as an associate justice of the same supreme court to which he was being reappointed, had served a period of years as a member of that court, and had been secretary of state when his name was sent to the senate as a nominee for chief justice of the United States. Did the senate say that any one or all of these elections, appointments, and confirmations had been sufficient to guarantee his fitness to the court? It did not. He had to go on the senatorial pillory.

Yet, in the case of Senator Black, it was published from day to day that he had been elected by support of the Ku Klux Klan. Senator Burke of Nebraska informed the senate that there was a senator ready to offer two witnesses that Black was a member of the Klan. And the senate blithely accepted the appointment:

1. Because he was nominated by President Roosevelt.

2. Because he was a member of the United States senate (and, therefore, must be a right, according to senatorial tradition, no matter what kind of a scoundrel he might have been found to be).

Have United States senators learned that there is anything to be desired in the persons in whom they put their trust?

They are quoted as having trusted the word of this one or that one.

Most of them just were betting and hoping that President Roosevelt was not making another blunder.

Noting the frame of mind into which the president had worked himself, with reference to the court and the senate, when he appointed Black, General Johnson compared the appointment with the act of a small boy depositing a dead cat on the steps of the town banker.

If the senate has learned anything about foolish traditions, and if it has learned anything about trustworthiness of some individuals, we have made progress.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. According to F. Fraser Bond, professor of journalism, they do. He maintains in his fine book, "Give Yourself Background," that while dress is important to a man in business it is more so to a woman. Personality rates even higher. Professor Bond urges both young men and women to "get background," principally by systematic reading and writing and seeking contacts with other people. Most young people, as he says, waste enough time, browsing around, reading this and that, to become highly cultivated and influential in some special field. This, he thinks, is the only road to effective journalism or business success, especially for women.

complex government by their own intelligence. Dr. George E. Vincent, educator, points out that in pioneer days the people could safely depend on "rough common sense," but with our problems multiplied ten thousand fold that day has passed. Yet, vast numbers of people ple still show this childish attitude when they think they have proved the "brain trust" wrong by calling them "well meaning but impractical theorists," and intimating, as Vincent said, that "under 60 they are inexperienced youths; beyond that age, victims of 'senile decay.'" The educated expert in government is our last hope.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. When a man rests on his laurels, his day is almost done. I read almost the same statement the other day attributed to Helen Hayes. One wonders, when he sees Astaire's imitable dancing, and Helen Hayes' great acting how ? thought of failure could ever enter their heads—but if it did not they would soon be back numbers, despite their genius. A reasonable fear of failure is a fine stimulus.

HAWKEYES TO FACE SEVERE OPENING TEST

Chicago, Sept. 22—(AP)—He hasn't hollered for sympathy, but Irl Tubbs, Iowa's new football coach, might well be doing a little low moaning over the opening day task of his Hawkeyes.

All the Hawkeyes have to do Saturday when they make their bow under their new teacher is tackle the University of Washington, 1936 Pacific Coast conference champions, at Seattle, a job inherited by Tubbs when he succeeded Ossie Solem. Against the Huskies, rated as no worse than an even bet to retain their league laurels, Tubbs will send a squad which includes 13 lettermen, only five of which were considered regulars of last year's mediocre eleven, all of which adds up to a tough prospect for his first official look at his team.

The Hawkeyes looked good yesterday in two sessions of defensive drill against Washington formations, but the offense so far has not developed power.

Scrimmage Off
At Minnesota, where Bernie Bierman is preparing to try out the power of his 1937 Golden Gophers against North Dakota State college Saturday, scrimmage was called off yesterday because of 85-degree weather. Bierman devoted the time to forward passing and shifting his backs. One of the switches sent Rudy Gmitro to right halfback where he may start in place of Wilbur Moore.

Although a long offensive scrimmage produced steady gains by the varsity, Coach Mal Elward was dissatisfied with the work of his Purdue squad in preparation for Saturday's opener with Butler, and Bo McMillin, at Indiana, searched for end talent to round out the line which will start against Centre college this week.

A leg injury suffered by Pete Gales, 205-pound guard, marred a dummy scrimmage session at Ohio State, while Coach Harry Kipke of Michigan was forced to postpone a scrimmage because of a scarcity of uninjured backs. Wisconsin's squad which tees off against South Dakota State this week, was given a light workout while Coach Harry Stuhldreher took his first look at 168 freshman candidates.

Illini Puzzled
Ohio University plays puzzled Illinois regulars for nearly an hour before a solution was discovered, and Coach Bob Zuppke's reserve force suffered a loss when Bill Unsinger, a promising back, was injured. At Northwestern, Lynn Waldorf moved Jack Major, a halfback, to the blocking back position to bolster his reserve power. Coach Clark Shaughnessy experimented with sophomores in his line, and indicated three first year candidates, Earl Pierce, guard; George Kelley, tackle, and Bob Wasem, end, would man the right side of the Chicago Maroons' forward wall.

Displeased at a lack of hustle on the part of Notre Dame's veterans, Elmer Layden said he would start a team of sophomores against Drake a week from Saturday, unless the situation improves.

DEATHS ACCIDENTAL

Chicago—(AP)—The deaths of Lloyd Galbraith of Cairo, Ill., and Elmer C. Koch of Staunton, Ill., two 20-year-old CCC workers who were killed in an automobile-truck collision July 5, were accidental, a coroner's jury decided. The truck driver, Walter Hush, 47, testified the youth's car crashed into the side of his vehicle.

GIANTS' LEAD DWINDLES AS CHICAGO WINS

Garrulous Gabby Is Hero Of 7 To 5 Cub Victory

By BILL BONI

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Giants have had a dose of Dr. Charley Grimm's pet medicine—he hopes to call it "the pennant winner"—and they woke up today with a bitter taste in their mouths.

A determination to do better and a National league lead that had dwindled to a game and a half.

Dr. Grimm's medicine, the one that has done such wonders for the cocky Cubs on past afternoons, is a well-adjusted mixture of garrulous Gabby Hartnett's war club and smooth-flowing relief pitching by veteran Charley Root.

The Giants got both yesterday, to the delight of 34,807 Chicago customers and the dismay of Gotham's rooters for a nickel World Series.

Garrulous Gabby, he of the wagging tongue and the flailing shillalah, was in his best form. Missing only a homer on his triumphant tour, the big Cub backdrop smashed out a triple with the bases loaded, a single that put him in position to score, and a double that drove home the final nail in the Giants' coffin and the final run in the Cubs' 7-5 victory.

Yanks Ease In

While the Cubs and Giants battle tooth and nail to settle their pennant issue, the Yanks sit still and ease in. When the Tigers split their doubleheader in Boston yesterday, losing the first, 12-7, to a 10-run Red Sox fifth inning and winning the second, 4-1, that made it so much simpler for the Ruppert riot squad.

By winning both games from the Browns today, they can eliminate Detroit from all consideration.

The Yanks and Browns were kept idle yesterday by the American Legion parade that tied up practically everything in New York.

The rest of the big league program saw the Dodgers drop two in St. Louis, 8-5 and 6-3; the Pirates sting the Bees, 9-2; the Phils lose the opener, 6-3, and win the nightcap from the Reds, 10-1; Wally Moses' 11th inning homer with a man on beat the White Sox, 5-4, for the Athletics, and Johnny Allen of the Indians win his 13th straight—he hasn't been beaten—with a 6-3 subjection of the Senators.

BOY GOLFER, AGE EIGHT, SHOOTS LOW NINETIES

His Drives Average 150 Yards, Best Club Is His Putter

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 22—(AP)—Promoters of father and son golf tournaments next year may expect some young blood, for 8-year-old Billy Leith is on his way.

Son of Willie Leith, professional at the Elgin Country club, Billy has taken lessons from his dad since he was four and this summer shot consistently in the low 90's. He carded an 86 on one round.

Although his dad, who was born in Scotland and started playing golf at the age of six, says his son's best club is the putter, Billy averages about 150 yards on drives with his woods.

Leith believes his son will learn a lot in actual competition and already plans to enter pater-filius events with him next year.

Billy's six-year-old sister, Patsy Ann, also is rapidly learning the game but her father won't permit her score to be taken. The shot, not the score, is important at her age, he says.

The English thrush is capable of singing for 16 hours at a stretch.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

Gabby Hartnett and Charley Root, Cubs—Former's single, double and triple figured in all Cub scoring in 7-5 defeat of Giants; latter's relief pitching choked off losers rally.

Hal Trosky, Indians—Home run with bases loaded provided winning margin in 6-3 trimming of Senators.

Ben Chapman, Red Sox, and George Gill, Tigers—Former's homer with three on started ten-run rally that beat Tigers in opener, 12-7; latter held Sox to eight hits and fanned eight in 4-1 nightcap win.

Jim Tobin, Pirates—Pitched seven hits to tame Bees, 9-2, and led 13-hit winning attack with two doubles and single.

Don Guttridge and Don Padgett, Cardinals—Former's triple cleared bases in big inning that won opener from Brooklyn, 8-5; latter's three singles and four-bagger led way to 6-3 win in second game.

Wally Moses, Athletics—His 11th inning homer with man on base broke tie and gave A's 5-4 decision over White Sox.

QUIGLEY GIVEN CREDIT FOR SEMI-PRO TOURNAMENT

Contributed To Education Of Young Baseball Stars

Office hours: 10:40 a. m. to 1:30 the next a. m. Lunch under the grandstand. Dinner in between ball games.

That's the routine of Ernest C. Quigley, the National league's supervisor of umpires, when he moved his base of operations from his New York desk in Radio City's tallest tower out to Lawrence stadium, Wichita's municipal athletic park on the bank of the Arkansas river a block and a half from that Kansas community's business heart.

At the invitation of Honus Wagner, high commissioner of the National Semi-Pro Congress, Mr. Quigley conducted the play of the Congress championship round, a double-elimination process lasting two weeks and sending to bat 32 teams from every section of the country, the champions of about 10,000 teams and 160,000 boys and young men who engaged in the season's play.

Fine Tourney

Under the Quigley supervision, the tournament played through to a brilliant and orderly conclusion, with teams representing eight different states, Kansas, Oklahoma, Georgia, Maryland, Texas, Washington, Pennsylvania and North Carolina, finishing "in the money."

The Quigley program produced the outstanding contribution of the major leagues this year in the education of the rising generation of ball-players. The tournament was conducted strictly to major league specifications, through the operation of the staff of umpires under Mr. Quigley's direct, personal, and right-on-the-spot supervision, thus schooling the young players in the proper conduct of ball games, correct interpretations of knotty rules, and the "big league" manner of comporting themselves on the field and on the bench.

Quigley Was Umpire

Mr. Quigley donned his uniform and acted as umpire-in-chief in the opening game and in the final game. He supervised the other 54 games from the sidelines, holding conferences with his umpires in the intervals between games. About two-thirds of the games were played by daylight, the rest under lights. Being present at all the games—all day, every day—required the lengthy office hours described above, but in spite of this crowded working day, the National league official managed to jump away from the battle-ground for a few radio talks over Wichita stations.

"Next week—East Lynn," made a good closing line for Mr. Quigley's Wichita story, for before returning to the National league's Radio City headquarters, he spent a week at New Orleans, acting as chief umpire in the American Legion Junior World Series, won by the junior legionnaires from East Lynn, Mass.

Here and There In Sports World

By EDDIE BRITZ

New York, Sept. 22—(AP)—Officials of the San Antonio club of the Texas league have the misery . . . They are blue in the face trying to explain to fans why they traded Pitcher Ash Hillin to Oklahoma City . . . (All Ash did for Oklahoma City was win 31 ball games) . . . Young Terry, the Trenton (N. J.) buzz saw, wants it distinctly understood he is not the "Young Terry" who was kayoed by Mickey Page of Providence at Augusta, Me., the other night . . . "Such publicity affects me 'advise-ly," said the Buzz Saw . . . Looks like Jimmy Wilson at Cincinnati and more power to him.

Those trucking tycoons, the Messrs. James J. Braddock and Joe Gould, report biz is O. K. . . . Jake Todd of Erskine college in South Carolina is the only one-man coaching staff in Dixie . . . He double-times with the varsity and freshmen and last year borrowed from his varsity reserves so his 11-man frosh squad could play out its schedule . . . Henry Armstrong looks like a miniature edition of Joe Louis when it comes to socking . . . Last season was the second best in the International league's history from an attendance standpoint.

No one could find out definitely why the Hippodrome was being picketed yesterday . . . Somebody said it was because all the boys being employed by Mike Jacobs at the Hippodrome are not union boys . . . Big Ten football prestige may get a jolt when Texas Christian and Ohio State collide Saturday . . . Add success stories: Fred Thompson, coach of the spectacular Arkansas Razorbacks, is one of the few men who jumped from a small-town high school directly to a major university—and made good . . . Don't look now, boys, but another major league manager is about to get the old heave-ho.

The British refused to evacuate, protested strongly and warned the Japanese they would be held strictly accountable for any loss of British lives and property.

SECOND U. S. PROTEST

Washington, Sept. 22—(AP)—The United States government today delivered to Japan a second and more vigorous protest against the bombing of Nanking.
This was announced by Secretary Hull, who told his press conference that the new representation differed from those addressed previously to the Japanese government in that it constituted a formal written note to the Japanese foreign minister.
The previous protest, made on the ground that the threatened bombing violated humanitarian and international laws, was delivered orally.
The new representation was conveyed to the Japanese foreign minister by American Ambassador Joseph C. Grew at 5:30 P. M. today Tokyo time (2:30 A. M., C. S. T.).
Grew was delivering the American government's views at approximately the same time that Japanese planes were bombing the Chinese capital.
Secretary Hull, indicating that some early reply had been received from the Japanese foreign office, said that official reports to Washington were that one shell exploded in the American embassy compound during the Japanese raid on Nanking.

1938 PROGRAM TO SAVE SOIL IS ANNOUNCED

Payment Plan for Farmers Meeting Goals is Simplified

By the Farm Editor
The farmers of Lee and Ogle counties who are participating in the federal government's soil conservation program—there are more than 2,000 of them in the two counties—will be interested in the plan of payment and other details concerning the government's 1938 soil-saving program. The first information concerning the payment plan for 1938 was received today by Farm Adviser C. E. Yale at Amboy from Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture.
Three salient features have been incorporated in the 1938 program, according to Mr. Yale. First, of course, is the national goal for soil-depleting crops and a national objective for soil-building crops and practices. Locally, there will be county and individual farm goals.
Second is the establishment of a soil-depleting crop goal of 92 to 96 million acres of corn, with local farmers receiving individual goals, and third is the establishment of a minimum payment for each farm. In other words, only one type of payment will be made for performance under the 1938 plan.
In these and other points the 1938 program is designed to restore soil fertility and stabilize agriculture. It should prove more simple and more effective than the two programs which preceded it, in the opinion of Farm Adviser Yale. For example, a farmer when the goals for his farm have been established, will know just what he is supposed to do to comply with the plan and how much he will receive for that compliance.
One Type of Payment
Only one type of payment will be made, and full payment will be made only if the soil-depleting acreage does not exceed the goal and if there is sufficient acreage in soil-conserving crops and the required soil-building practices to meet the soil-building goal are followed. Payments will be decreased in cases of failure to meet the goals.
In establishing goals for individual farms the county agricultural conservation committees will consider the tillable acreage of a farm, the type of soil, topography, production facilities, the crop rotation system, the acreage customarily grown on the farm and acreages of food and feed crops needed for home consumption.
County committees also will establish soil-building goals for individual farms, taking into consideration minimum requirements specified under the program, the acreage of new seedlings required in 1938 to promote soil conservation, the application of limestone and fertilizer necessary for conserving crops, the improvement of pastures and the acreage on which terracing, contour listing and other mechanical practices are needed to prevent wind and water erosion of the soil.
The payment which will be made for staying within the soil-depleting crop goal and for achieving the soil-building objective will be calculated as follows for the 1938 program:
Plan of Payment
1. $1.50 an acre adjusted for the productivity of the farm for each acre in the general soil-depleting crop goal.
2. 10 cents a bushel on the farm's normal yield an acre for each acre in the corn goal.
3. 70 cents an acre on either the soil-conserving acreage or one-fourth of the total soil-depleting crop goal established for the farm, the larger sum in either case being paid.
4. $2 an acre on the average annual acreage of commercial vegetables grown on the farm in 1936 and 1937 and of commercial orchards on the farm as of January 1, 1938.
5. 30 cents an acre, adjusted by regions for productivity, for fenced non-crop open pasture land in excess of one-half the number of acres of crop land on the farm.
There also is provision for special payments in cases of crops such as cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts, none of which is commonly grown in Illinois.
Specific crops and practices to be counted toward the attainment of a farm's soil-building goal correspond in general to those approved for use in the 1937 program. To List Practices

The Illinois state conservation committee later is to select the list of soil-serving crops and practices to apply to the 1938 program in this state. The Lee and Ogle county committees to handle the 1938 programs will be organized early in the year. The final check-up of the 1937 program will not be made until late this fall. In Lee county alone about 1,100 applications were made to this year's committee for payments under the 1937 soil program.
This year the federal government sought to limit the corn crop to 92 million acres, or 92 percent of the 1936 crop, but it is estimated that the total corn acreage for 1937 is 9,457,000, or 569,000 over the planned limit. Lee and Ogle counties probably carry part of this average, for many farmers have not participated in the program this year and made no effort to limit corn acreage.
Secretary Keay of the Lee county committee said that under the 1938 program a farmer having 120 acres of crop land with a soil-depleting crop goal of 100 acres and a corn goal of 50 acres, could earn about $182.52 in soil payments by complying with the 1938 program. The figure is based on the average corn yield being set at 30 bushels to the acre. If that farmer should fail to meet the goals set, deductions would be made for such failures at the time payments were authorized.

Infantile Paralysis Situation Unchanged
Chicago, Sept. 22—(AP)—The infantile paralysis situation remains "unchanged", the board of health stated today on receiving reports of one death, three new cases and seven suspected cases in the last 24 hours.

The death was that of a 6-year-old boy.
Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, board president, said the new cases in the last 48 hours totaled nine, the same number as was reported in the corresponding period last week.

Twelve orthopedic surgeons met yesterday and drafted recommendations for treatment of sufferers to minimize crippling.

They advised complete rest in bed and support of paralyzed muscles with proper braces and physical therapy in the advanced stage of convalescence. They said patients should be kept warm and massages and electrical stimulation should be avoided.

Tri-City Factory Employment Hits New August Mark
Chicago, Sept. 22—(AP)—Factory employment in the tri-city area of Moline, Rock Island and Davenport, set a new high mark in August, the Illinois manufacturers' association said today. The number of factory payrolls in the last week of the month showed an increase of 21.3 per cent over the similar period in 1936, the association said.

Of 74 firms reporting, the net increase in employment for the month was 1,267 persons.

FEEDERS AND POULTRY FOLK TALK OUTLOOK

Specialists Address Two Meetings at Amboy Tuesday

Present and prospective livestock feeders of Lee county met at the Farm Bureau office at Amboy last night to listen to talks by Professor R. C. Ashby of the state college of agriculture, Jim Clark of the Chicago Producers Commission Co. and Louis Hall of the livestock marketing division of the Illinois Agricultural association concerning the livestock outlook.
With a 60 per cent increase in the corn crop and 8 per cent more hay than last year and a demand created by the improved condition of the wage earner the speakers could find nothing pessimistic concerning the hog and lamb outlook for next year. They were not quite so certain regarding the cattle situation, but all were agreed that the scarcity of hogs will help to bolster cattle prices. It was suggested that feeders are in position to make at least average profits on cattle next year, although the present top prices for choice cattle may not be maintained next year.
Mr. Clark expressed the belief that medium grade cattle fed for the spring market should not be a satisfactory return. All the speakers stressed the idea that this is the kind of a year where the feeder must practice good planning in order to get better than average profits in feeding.
To Visit Chicago
The cattlemen indicated a desire the second week in October and the visit to the stockyards at Chicago trip will probably be made either October 11 or 13. Farm Adviser C. E. Yale indicated that the visitors on this occasion will be given an opportunity to judge cattle on the same basis used in a recent contest when vocational agriculture students visited the yards.
Poultry raisers of Lee county, the majority of them women, at another meeting at Amboy yesterday heard Professor H. H. Alp of the state college of agriculture declare that the outlook for both poultry and eggs appears to be on the up grade, and that conditions should be favorable for poultry raisers during the next two years. He and Farm Adviser Yale urged that a flock of at least 200 birds be kept on each Lee county farm. They pointed out that this is the minimum number for a profitable flock, and that the care of this number of birds entails on more labor than for a flock of 100 birds.
Professor Alp devoted much of his talk to care and feeding of pullets during the fall and winter. Late in the afternoon the poultry raisers visited the farm of Paul Hann in Franklin Grove township to inspect a brooder house which is said to be one of the best in Lee county.

Farm Hand Ordered Committed To Elgin Insane Hospital
Woodstock, Ill., Sept. 22—(AP)—Thomas Commerce, 44, a farm hand arrested on a bad check charge, was ordered committed to the Elgin state hospital today after a sanity hearing in McHenry county court.

After attempting to undress in the courtroom, authorities said he tried to flood the jail by turning on several faucets. Following his arrest in Belvidere, Commerce was held under guard four days in a hospital.

FROST IN JERSEY CO.
Jerseyville, Ill.—(AP)—Late corn and garden vegetables showed the effects today of Jersey county's second frost of the year, recalling forecasts of early freezing weather made several weeks ago when martins and other migratory birds started south ahead of their usual time.

ITALIANS HAIL NEW DIPLOMATIC VICTORY TODAY

Revised Anti-Piracy Agreement Admits Italy's Status

Rome, Sept. 22—(AP)—Italians today hailed the impending Italian-British-French anti-piracy conference as a sign that Premier Mussolini's demand for Mediterranean parity had been met and they jubilantly chalked up another diplomatic victory for Il Duce.

Responsible sources said they believed assurances regarding Italy's Mediterranean position, given to the British and French charges d'affaires here by Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano, had overcome the big obstacle to an "effective" piracy control agreement.

These sources indicated a belief that political differences could be thrashed out successfully when spokesmen of the three powers get together soon in Paris, but to Italians at large it was already a victory over the Anglo-French diplomatic front.

Press Comment
The influence of Italo-German collaboration came in for its share of credit in press comment on this new approach to international efforts to drive pirate submarines, planes and warcraft from the Mediterranean shipping lanes.

Both Italy and Germany, Europe's major fascist states, stayed away from the Nyon, Switzerland, conference in which nine nations, led by France and Britain, assigned the armed might of Paris and London to keep a vigil over the main sea lanes.

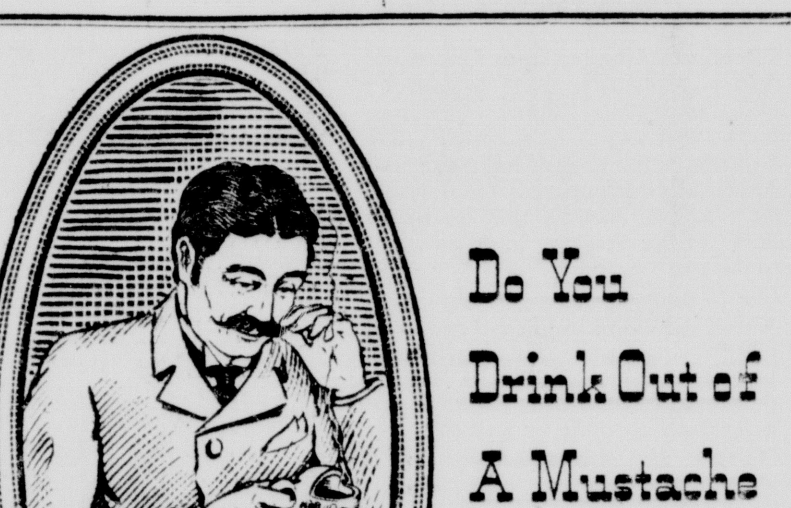

Italy was offered the unimportant Tyrrhenian sea as a patrol zone and Germany was offered nothing. Italy rejected the offer and demanded parity with France and Britain—in keeping, Italy said, with her interests in the Mediterranean.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
PRISCILLA PIERCE—heroine, young woman attorney
AMY KERR—Cilly's roommate and murderer's victim
JIM KERRIGAN—Cilly's fiancé,
HARRY HUTCHINS—Amy's
strange visitor
SERGEANT DOLAN—officer assigned to solve the murder of Amy Kerr.

Yesterday, the case of Amy Kerr is complicated when Cilly receives a surprise card from Jim Kerrigan advising he had taken the first plane to Utah. She thought of the Utah clipping.
Then Sergeant Dolan knocks at the door.

CHAPTER VI
Cilly led Sergeant Dolan into the living room, remembering as she did so, that she had not as yet tidied it.

One could not put too much faith, she was thinking, in Sergeant Dolan's pleasant manner. It was reflected in the careless, good-natured bulk of his six feet two, in the lightness of his speech, in the wide smile which came so easily to his lips. But his rather small, quick eyes belied all that.
They were shrewd and cunning.

"I'm sorry to say, Miss Pierce," the sergeant said, seating himself in the most comfortable armchair,
"that this matter of Miss Kerr's —er—accident, presents itself in rather a different light this morning."

Cilly sat down opposite him.
"You've seen Mrs. Corbett then?"
she asked.

"Who is Mrs. Corbett?" he countered.

"A neighbor from across the street. She called a few minutes ago—with some rather startling information. I suggested that she get in touch with you immediately."

"Um-m-m-m." Dolan scratched his chin. "Just what was this startling information?" he asked.

Cilly hesitated. It would be wiser at present, she decided, to do no more talking than was necessary.

"Perhaps it would be better, Sergeant Dolan," she suggested,
"for you to hear Mrs. Corbett's story from her. She intended to phone you, I believe."

Dolan looked at Cilly shrewdly.
"Here's a girl," he thought, "who's nobody's fool."

Aloud he said: "She did get in touch with me. Thought I'd just stop in and get your version of the affair once more."

"I'll be glad to answer your questions, sergeant," Cilly offered, courteously. She was more composed now, more her natural well-poised self.

Sergeant Dolan took out his inevitable black book and an almost useless stub of a pencil.

Following the program a silver tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames R. E. Chandler, Martin V. Peterman and Miss Bessie Peck. The garden club yearly picnic luncheon at the home of Mrs. Glen Andrew.

Dayton had their car stolen Sunday evening about 8:30 p. m. in the front of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schildberg, at Mendota. The thief drove the car as far as the St. Mary's church pole and badly smashed the car and broke the pole in two pieces. At this writing no trace has been found of the thief.

bie of Aurora spent the weekend

lie Sumpter. 21816

both Mr. and Mrs. Bauer. Games were played and refreshments were served.

will sponsor a card party Tuesday evening, September 28, at the Lamoille Community hall. Bridge, 500 and pinocle will be played.
Playing will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Henry Gramer spent the weekend at her home in Wyanet.
Mr. and Mrs. Clare Forquhar of Chicago spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
John Pope.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Mentler of Monmouth were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maxey.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Beatty motored to Stevens Point, Wis., Sunday to attend the wedding of her niece, and Mrs. Park Lyon, Mr. and Mrs.

"How long did you tell me
you've known Miss Kerr—Amy Kerr, that right?"

"Yes," Cilly repeated what she had told the night before. She met Amy some six months previous, in the Cannon building, where they both worked.

"We frequently met downstairs in the tea shoppe for lunch," she added.
"Amy spoke of the difficulty in finding a nice place to live in New York. She had been staying at a girls' residence club and did not like it very much. Finally I suggested that she share this apartment with me. That was two months ago."

"Remember the name of this residence club?"

"Cilly named a modest but well-known clubhouse in the Seventies.
"Did she have many friends?"

"Very few, I should say. Amy was a stranger in the city. I understood that she came from a town called Interlaken, in New Hampshire, where she had lived with an aunt. She came to New York less than a year ago and happened to find this position as secretary to Harvey Ames, of the real estate firm. They have offices on the same floor as ours."

"I know it," she said dully.
"You know?"

"Yes. That is what Mrs. Corbett told me. Her mother saw someone—some man—throw Amy off the roof."

"For Heaven's sake, why didn't you tell me?" he demanded irritably.

"You said that Mrs. Corbett had already communicated with you."
Dolan nodded his head abruptly.

"Yes, she asked me to stop in and see her. I haven't done it yet.
There's always a dozen people ready with startling information in a case like this. What did she say?"

"Her mother saw Amy flung bodily from the roof. Some criminal, some maniac, she supposed."

Unconsciously Cilly shuddered at the recollection. That terrifying, pitch-black roof. Not Dracula up there, no foolish figure of a silly imagination. But a real flesh-and-blood murderer. A fendish trap had been laid up there, and Amy walked into it blindly.

Dolan shook his head negatively. "More to it than that, I'm afraid. The medical examination this morning disclosed no evidence of criminal attack, such as might be attributed to a degenerate, or a maniac. But it did disclose something else—something very curious. . . ."

"What was it?"

"The girl was strangled—brutally strangled with a piece of ordinary clothesline—before she was thrown from the roof."

Obituary
John Edwin Knouse, son of Oliver and Elizabeth Knouse, was born in Altoona, Pa., June 9, 1874 and died September 14, 1937 at his home in Franklin Grove, Ill., at the age of 63 years, 3 months and 5 days. The early years of his life were spent in Pennsylvania. He came to Illinois in 1892 and has resided in this community since.

Funeral services were held at and for many years was one of its prominent farmers. He became a member of the Church of the Brethren in 1897. In his early life he was a member of the Reformed church. He has always been a consistent, active Christian. He not only gave of his time but he was a liberal financial supporter when he was able to do so. He was elected to the ministry in 1905 and for many years took his regular turn at preaching. He was not an educated minister but his upright life added power to what he said. He was married to Vinna Buck December 8, 1898. To this union were born three children, Mrs. Henry Wendell and Mrs. Beryl Beeghly of Franklin Grove, and Mrs. George Knouse of Dixon. There is one grand-daughter, Maxine Beeghly, one grandson preceding his death. Mr. Knouse was a highly esteemed citizen of this community, a good neighbor, a kind father, a good husband. For the last few years he has been in ill health; but this last spring he suffered a complete physical breakdown and was forced to retire. This breakdown affected his nervous system and at times he was very despondent, which led to his death. The community has been shocked and saddened by his untimely departure. But when we understand his physical and mental condition we can deeply sympathize and appreciate his attitude toward life. He leaves to mourn his departure his widow, two daughters, one son and one granddaughter, five brothers, Earl, Mervin, Dale, Ray, two sisters, Mrs. Ida Pitzer and Mrs. Jennie Pitzer, all of Arnsville, Pa., and Elmer Knouse of Cleveland, Ohio, and many other relatives and a host of friends. One brother and sister preceded him in death.

When saints of earth go home to God.

We gently lay the lifeless form. Away to rest beneath the sod. But love goes on. We'll never forget. Because we know they're with us yet.

The Master said they're gone to sleep. Lie down awhile and rest beneath His smile, though we in sorrow weep.

But sure as sun doth rise and set. And rise again, they're with us yet. 'Just going home to Him above', Beloved Paul in truth did say; But all are near within His love. We mourn in pain but not regret. God's word is true. They're with us yet.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only make-shifts. A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Use of 'Safe' Milk Prevents Diseases

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 22—(AP)—The public health department said today the consumption of "safe" milk during the winter and spring months "helps greatly to prevent the spread of such diseases of scarlet fever, septic sore throat and undulant fever."

A department bulletin reported that no milk-borne disease had been traced to the 72,000,000 gallons of pasteurized milk consumed down state last year, although two outbreaks of scarlet fever were attributed to raw milk supplies during 1936 and one in 1937, at Moline, Kewanee and Rockford, respectively.

Scarlet fever, the department reported, was on the upgrade, with 101 new cases last week "and the outlook for generally increase for 4 or 5 months." Pneumonia also was beginning to climb.

The 81 fresh cases of infantile paralysis reported last week, the department said, was the lowest in three weeks.

The Statue of Liberty in New York harbor was unveiled in 1886.

You could no more expect a LEOPARD to change his spots, than a ONE-IN-A-MILLION Malted Milk to vary in its rich, creamy, consistently delicious flavor.
